Maps

A map is a picture or drawing that shows the location of human and physical features. Maps often include symbols, instead of words, to show important features. These can be pictures or letters. A key explains what the map symbols mean.

People in the community

There are many people who work in, and help to look after, the community.

A community is made up of the people who live there. People in a community may have some similarities and differences but all people should be treated with kindness, compassion and respect. It is also important to look after the environment in a community. Removing litter and planting new bulbs are great ways to keep the community a nice place to live.

Changing communities

A community can change over time. How people shop is one way a community might have changed. In the past, people shopped at smaller shops like the examples below. Now, most people do their shopping at supermarkets or online.

Grocer's

Foods like butter, cheese and eggs were bought from the grocer's shop. Customers were served by a grocer.

Bakery

Bread and cakes were bought from the bakery. They were baked fresh every day at the back of the shop.

Sweet shop

Sweets were bought from the sweet shop. They were kept in jars behind the counter and weighed out using scales.

Butcher's
